

heated loungers

Heated lounger or hot bed, for relaxation / sleep areas.

Decorated in blue or green tile (see other decorations), features an internal heating system that keeps a constant and uniform temperature, usually between 35 ° and 40 ° C, programmed by the user. It has a thermostat with a security system totally independent which consists of some electrical resistors replaceable, without any need to lift the tile surface, in the event of failure.

Fully ergonomic, essential in areas of relaxation / rest and be combined with music therapy, aromatherapy and chromotherapy.

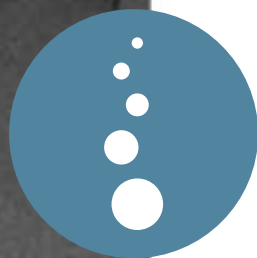

It is used upon completion of any meeting steam bath, sauna and hydrotherapy, being necessary to our body some time to rest or sleep to strengthen the sense of well-being that provide these therapies.
